

American Educational Research Association (AERA) Mixed Methods Research SIG

Have you registered?

Annual Meeting is April 3-7, 2014

The 2014 AERA Annual Meeting will be held on April 3-7, 2014, in Philadelphia, PA.

Click here to learn more about the conference and to access submission links.

See pp. 4-6 for a full list of our SIG sessions!

AERA Mixed Methods Research SIG Officers

Chair: Thomas W. Christ, University of Bridgeport;
tchrist@bridgeport.edu

Past-Chair: Nataliya Ivankova, University of Alabama at Birmingham; nivankov@uab.edu

Program Chair: Janice Jones, Cardinal Stritch University; je2jones@stritch.edu

Secretary/Treasurer: Lisa Foster, Harvard Graduate School of Education; lisa_foster@gse.harvard.edu

Newsletter Editor: Nancy Wingo, University of Alabama at Birmingham; nancy10@uab.edu

Webmaster: Tiberio Garza, Texas A & M University; tiberigus@tamu.edu

FALL 2013

About Us

As a “special interest group” (SIG) within the American Educational Research Association (AERA), the Mixed Methods SIG was established in 2004 to “support, encourage, and increase dialogue and idea exchange among educational researchers utilizing mixed methods and those interested in integrating qualitative and quantitative research approaches.”

Join us! We are 306 members strong and still growing! Want to join our SIG? Update your membership through the AERA website. (SIG dues are still just $5.00.)

Membership dues support the SIG's work of advancing the discussion of mixed methods research at the AERA annual meetings. In addition, SIG members may receive email updates related to news about mixed methods research as well as SIG newsletters.

We look forward to having you join this forum for advancing mixed methods research!

Photo and design credit: <http://MMIRA.org>

We urge you to become a part of The Mixed Methods International Research Association (MMIRA)! Your annual enrollment dues will give you a special e-access subscription to the Journal of Mixed Methods Research, leadership/mentoring opportunities in the new association, and access to the new MMIRA website (at <http://MMIRA.org>) that features a variety of pedagogical and research resources, updates about current mixed methods initiatives/conferences, and opportunities for dialogue with other mixed methods scholars and students.

To join the MMIRA, complete the registration form online at <http://MMIRA.org>.

*Join the MMIRA at Boston College for our first conference on June 27-29, 2014:
"Coming at Things Differently:
Challenges, Advances, & Diversity Within and Across Mixed Methods Research Communities"*

Conference Program

Two keynote addresses by leading MMR Scholars, Dr. Thomas S. Weisner & Dr. Dawn Freshwater

Paper Sessions that cover the major themes/topics of the conference

Roundtable sessions appropriate for novice and seasoned researchers, who can informally present their work-in-progress and receive feedback in a supportive environment

Post-Conference Workshop Day - Sunday, June 29, 2014

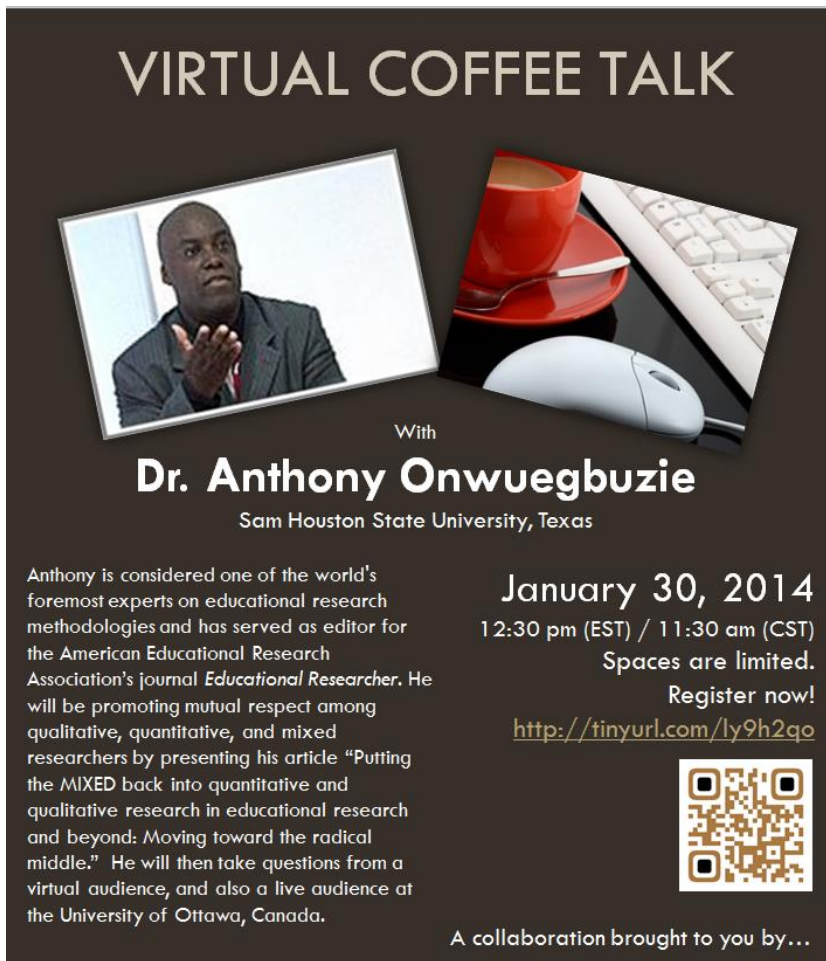

Exhibit hall of publishers and software developers

More conference information

Submit your paper abstract

Questions? Email mmiraconference2014@gmail.com

First “Virtual Coffee Talk” features Dr. Anthony Onwuegbuzie

VIRTUAL COFFEE TALK

With
Dr. Anthony Onwuegbuzie
Sam Houston State University, Texas

Anthony is considered one of the world's foremost experts on educational research methodologies and has served as editor for the American Educational Research Association's journal Educational Researcher. He will be promoting mutual respect among qualitative, quantitative, and mixed researchers by presenting his article "Putting the MIXED back into quantitative and qualitative research in educational research and beyond: Moving toward the radical middle." He will then take questions from a virtual audience, and also a live audience at the University of Ottawa, Canada.

January 30, 2014
12:30 pm (EST) / 11:30 am (CST)
Spaces are limited.
Register now!
<http://tinyurl.com/ly9h2qo>

A collaboration brought to you by...

Hello fellow grad students & colleagues,

Do you have suggestions for presenters for a future Virtual Coffee Talk? Do you have ideas for other events that would appeal to mixed researchers, especially graduate students? Would you like to get involved organizing these events? If so, please take a moment to fill out this brief survey: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/MMRGradStudentSurvey>

Thanks!

Julie Corrigan, Ph.D. Candidate, University of Ottawa
MMR SIG Graduate Student Representative

Join us for our first “Virtual Coffee Talk” on January 30, 2014, featuring Dr. Anthony Onwuegbuzie!

Virtual Coffee Talks will feature prominent mixed methods researchers discussing an article and taking questions from a live and virtual audience.

Participants will sign up for the event, access the article, and read it in advance. They will then have the option of discussing it with Dr. Onwuegbuzie and others via an Internet webinar link or by telephone.

Virtual Coffee Talk events were the brainchild of Julie Corrigan, our MMR SIG Graduate Student Representative. Our hope is that they will provide students and other scholars the opportunity to learn more about mixed methods research and network with experts and peers.

Register for the event at <http://tinyurl.com/ly9h2qo>

Please share this event with graduate students and colleagues. It is free and open to all!

Questions may be directed to Julie.Corrigan@uOttawa.ca

Mixed Methods Research SIG Annual Meeting 2014 Sessions

Session: Mixed Methods from Policy to Populations

Participants:

Robin R. Lasota, University of Washington (Discussant)
Elena Yu Polush, Ball State University (Chair)

Papers:

Conceptual Formation and Discourse of Mixed Methods Research: An Analysis of Terms Used in the Field of Mixed Methods Research

1st Author: Ruomeng Zhao, University of Nebraska – Lincoln

Quantifying and Qualifying the Bilingual Teacher Certification Experiences of Mexican Americans

1st Author: Amabilia Valverde Valenzuela, The University of Texas - El Paso

Research Innovation in Practice and Policy: Measuring Reading Workshop's Effectiveness in an Era of 'Scientifically-Based Research'

1st Author: Christy Wessel-Powell, Indiana University

Through the Students' Eyes: A Critical Dialectical Pluralistic Approach to Understanding Innovation in Game Based Learning

1st Author: Hannah R Gerber, Sam Houston State University

Session: Mixed Methods Perspectives

Participants:

Thomas W. Christ, University of Bridgeport (Discussant)
Anthony J. Onwuegbuzie, Sam Houston State University (Chair)

Papers:

A Compendium of Advanced Mixed Analysis Approaches

1st Author: Anthony J. Onwuegbuzie, Sam Houston State University

Advancing a Conceptual Framework as a Practical Guide to the Field of Mixed Methods Research: A Methodological Discussion

1st Author: Vicki L. Plano Clark, University of Cincinnati

A Review of the Use of Mixed Methods Research Designs for Survey Development

1st Author: Janet Walton, University of Cincinnati

Validity of Mixed Methods Research: A Perspective from Habermas' Validity Claims

1st Author: Haiying Long, Florida International University

Session: Mixed Methods Research SIG Business Meeting

25 Years of Mixed Methods: Reflections and Predictions from a Noted Panel of Experts

Janice E. Jones, Cardinal Stritch University (Session Organizer)
Thomas W. Christ, University of Bridgeport (Chair)

Mixed Methods Research SIG Annual Meeting 2014 Sessions (continued)

Session: Mixed Methods Research Applications

Participants:

Mette Lise Baran, Cardinal Stritch University (Chair)
Vicki L. Plano Clark, University of Cincinnati (Discussant)

Papers:

Experiences of Select Women Doctoral Students: A Feminist Standpoint Theory Perspective
1st Author: Valerie Tharp Byers, Sam Houston State University

Developing a Measure of Trust Using a Mixed-Methods Approach
1st Author: Shannon Lyn David, North Dakota State University

Toward Applying Mixed Methods in Action Research: Methodological Potentials and Advantages
1st Author: Nataliya V. Ivankova, The University of Alabama at Birmingham

Social Change and Legitimizing Voices: Utilizing Mixed Methods Transformative Research to Understand Parental Involvement
1st Author: Nichole M. Stitt, Ohio Northern University

Session: Mixed Methods Roundtable

Participants:

Chase Nordengren, University of Washington - Seattle (Chair)

Papers:

Paradigms Redefined: Synthesizing Four Perspectives for Mixed Methods Researchers
1st Author: Peggy Shannon-Baker, University of Cincinnati

School Leader Identification Through Qualitative and Quantitative Social Network Methods
1st Author: Chase Nordengren, University of Washington – Seattle

Points of Addition and Points of Integration: Why One Point of Interface Is Not Enough
1st Author: Judith Schoonenboom, VU University Amsterdam

Doctoral Students' Perceived Barriers that Slow the Progress Toward Completing a Doctoral Dissertation: A Mixed Analysis
1st Author: Eunjin Hwang, Sam Houston State University

Mixed Methods Research SIG Annual Meeting 2014 Sessions (continued)

Session: Roundtable in Mixed Methods Research

Participants:

John A. Freeman, The University of Tennessee – Chattanooga

Papers:

Linguistically Diverse Students and Special Education: A Mixed Methods Study of Teachers' Attitudes, Coursework, and Practices

1st Author: Renee Greenfield, University of Hartford

A Mixed Methods Analysis of Student Success in Diverse High School Science Programs

Author: Stephen C. Scogin, Texas A&M University - College Station

Mixing Validation Procedures to Enhance Inference Quality in a Mixed Methods Research Study

1st Author: Beverly Ann Fitzpatrick, Memorial University

Use of a Contiguous Convergent Parallel Mixed-Methods Design in a Descriptive Analysis of Physics Classrooms

1st Author: John A. Dantzler, The University of Alabama

Photo credit: www.era.net

*Register now
Philadelphia (AERA) in April and Boston (MMIRA) in June!
Hope to see you soon!*